How to Use the Character Record Sheets

This character sheet will help you keep track of your character's abilities and equipment during STAR FRONTIERS® adventures. The following paragraphs explain those terms on the sheet that are not self-explanatory. Be sure to use pencil when you use this sheet, because some abilities may change during an adventure.

General data

General information about creating characters starts on p. 3 of the STAR FRONTIERS® Basic Game Rules. In addition to the specific characteristics given here, you may use this area to record any distinguishing features of your character.

Character movement is explained on p. 19 of the Expanded Game Rules.

- RS - Reaction Speed
- INT - Intuition
- LOG - Logic

General notes

You may use this space to record your character's employer, friends, contacts, and location or base in an adventure. You may also list extra weapons or equipment in this space.

Official Character Record Sheets

for the STAR FRONTIERS® Alpha
Dawn and Knight Hawks Science
Fiction Role-Playing Games

STRANDED!

You're trapped on the outer reaches of a frozen, desolate moonscape. Your parabatteries are dead, and your Stamina is at a new low. Suddenly, a flock of winged rippers swoops down out of the cold, starry sky. You reach for your Laser Rifle. But wait! You're out of ammo! Way to go, Flash.

You forgot to use your character record sheets.

The new STAR FRONTIERS® Character Record Sheets will help you keep track of your character throughout all his space adventures. The sheets include room for ability scores, weapons, defenses, skills, equipment, and mission notes. A set of 32 records is provided in this package, along with tips on how to use them. Room for recording spaceship skills, which are used in the STAR FRONTIERS Knight Hawks Game, is also included.

Don't let your latest frontier be the final one. Carry on with the STAR FRONTIERS® Character Record Sheets, and boldly play where no man has played before.
